Dulles Returns From Journey Into Far East

Faced With Mounting Russian Campaign For Summit Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles returns today from a 10-day Far Eastern trip, facing a mounting Soviet campaign for a space-age summit conference.

Officials clearly are looking to Dulles for guidance on how to off set propaganda gains they say Moscow registered over the week-end with a surprise proposal for a United Nations outer space agency.

Senate Democrats, led by Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), denounced the administration for what they called allowing the Soviets to steal a propaganda march on the United States with the outer space proposal.

Johnson called for an American proposal for a United Nations outer space agency, stripped of the Soviet demand that be coupled with liquidation of all overseas American bases.

President Eisenhower already has proposed, in a letter to Soviet Premier Bulganin last Jan. 12, an agreement to limit use of outer space to peaceful purposes. He did not at that time propose U.N. action.

Dulles' major advice to President Eisenhower in the pre-summit conference jockeying, officials said, will be for Eisenhower to continue to insist on the need for solid diplomatic preparations, including perhaps a foreign ministers meeting, before any parley with Soviet leaders.

Some authorities are urging that Eisenhower also urge Bulganin to agree unconditionally to a U. N. outer space agency, aimed initially at peaceful purposes, without tying it to an off-jetted demand that the United States shut down all overseas bombing bases.

The Soviet proposal, formally submitted Monday to the United Nations, resembled part of a disarmament proposal the United States made 13 months earlier.

This proposal suggested that the U.N. disarmament group by "international inspection and participation," police outer space to and space platforms.

The American proposal stopped a step short of the Soviet plan, which suggested peaceful space research with both the United States and the Soviets leading the way in this joint venture.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) noted that Sen. Johnson had proposed such action in the United Nations but that the President "failed to act" to follow up the idea.

"Once again the United States has been placed on the defensive in the cold war," Mansfield said, "and there was no excuse."

Johnson, without taking credit for inspiring the plan, called on the administration to come up with its own "proposal stripped of all propaganda trappings and founded on the honest desire to achieve peace" through international cooperation in space and other fields.

Volunteers Search For Missing Boy, 5

GALLIPOLIS FERRY, W. Va. (AP)—Heavy, wet snow fell today as National Guardsmen, college students and other volunteers searched for a five-year-old boy missing from his farm home since 3 p. m. Monday.

An estimated 400 to 400 persons covered a wide area throughout the night in the hunt for John Wayne McKinney. The temperature was in the 30s.

John's mother, Mrs. Paul McKinney, said she last saw the child playing in the yard with two dogs. When she looked outside later, the boy and the dogs were missing. One dog later returned.

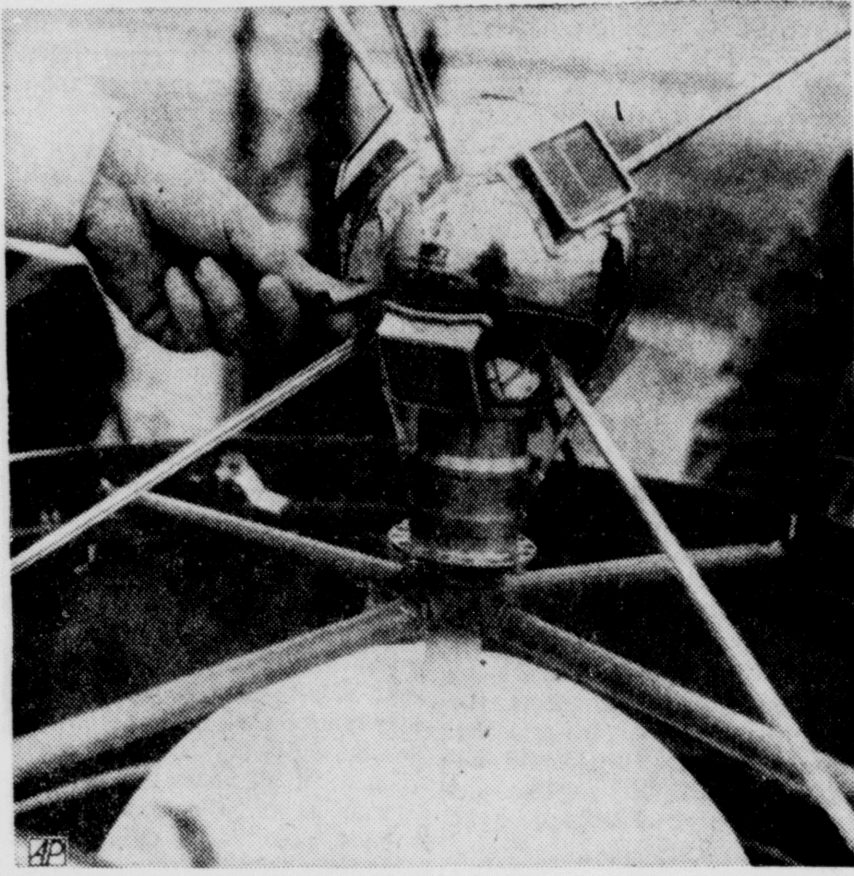

The McKinneys live on the Rolfe Lee farm about a mile outside this Ohio River community.

State Adj. Gen. William E. Blake ordered out about 60 members of the 3664th Ordnance Co., of West Virginia National Guard at Pt. Pleasant and about 200 students from Ohio University at Athens joined the search Monday night. Firemen also were taking part.

ORBITING THE EARTH — An engineer flicks a switch on the side of the 6.4 inch test satellite, in place atop the final stage of the Navy Vanguard rocket, to activate its radio transmitter. The tiny sphere, antennae and solar batteries protruding from its surface, was successfully launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Monday and placed into orbit around the earth. This photograph, released in Washington by the Department of Defense, was made at Cape Canaveral, Fla., during preparations for the firing.

Two American 'Moons' Are in Orbit

U.S. Planning More Satellite Firings

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Two—actually three—U.S. moons whizzed around the earth today in company with the sole surviving but already doomed Soviet Sputnik satellite.

And the United States continued to press on with programs to launch additional space craft.

With Sputnik II given less than a month remaining life the Soviet Union for the first time since Sputnik I came into being Oct. 4 was at a numerical disadvantage in the international space flight competition.

The Navy Vanguard satellite was launched early Monday into an orbit that pushed new frontiers out into the unknown.

The announced orbit ranged from 400 miles above the earth to a peak of 2,500 miles, the highest yet attained by a man-made satellite.

The Vanguard orbiter represented not one but two satellites. Its true artificial moon was a shiny aluminum sphere only 6.4 inches in diameter and weighing 3 1/4 pounds.

Somewhere close behind it in an 18,000-mile-an-hour orbit hundreds of miles out from the earth was the 50-pound third-stage rocket that pushed Vanguard to orbital speed. It was 5 feet long and 20 inches wide.

The Navy estimated that the sphere would stay in orbit 5 to 10 years. The dead rocket in its wake will have a much shorter ride.

Some officials of Martin Co., which built the Vanguard test rockets, suggested that the orbit peak may be considerably above the 2,500 miles officially accorded it, possibly to 3,000 miles or higher.

Dr. Milton Rosen, technical director of the Vanguard project for the Naval Research Laboratory, said the exact altitude attained by the new satellite would not be ascertained until telemetry data and other information received from the sphere had been analyzed.

But he said he was more interested in the fact that the Vanguard orbit's low point is 400 miles.

That's far better than he had hoped for," he told a reporter. He said provisions had been made for the possibility of a low point of only 200 miles," he said.

The Army launched its Explorer I satellite Jan. 31. The cylinder is almost 7 feet long and 6 inches in diameter. It weighs 30.8 pounds of which only about 12 pounds make up the instrumented satellite part.

Army Secretary Brucker announced earlier that there may be another attempt to launch an Army satellite within a week.

N. Elliot Felt, operations manager of the Vanguard project, said the Vanguard orbit's low point is 400 miles.

That's far better than he had hoped for," he told a reporter. He said provisions had been made for the possibility of a low point of only 200 miles," he said.

Ike Calls 9 Governors To Discuss Jobless Pay

Chiefs to Confer On Extension Of UC Payments

President's Proposal May Require Making U.S. Loans to States

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will discuss with a group of state governors tomorrow his proposal for an extended jobless payment plan before he sends it to Congress.

It was reported the plan may entail lending federal money to the states to pay unemployment compensation benefits for a maximum 39 weeks, instead of the 26 weeks most presently pay, plus a form of relief or dole for idle workers not covered by the UC system.

The plan still is subject to change, and reportedly is encountering some opposition within the administration. Some legal problems also remain.

Seek to Prevent Suffering
The whole idea is to prevent suffering for want of food or shelter among those who are still unemployed after their regular UC payments run out.

The idea were counted officially at 5,173,000 in mid-February. From all indications their number has continued growing since then.

Eisenhower announced March 8 that he was working on a plan to pay extended unemployment benefits. Monday he wired the nine members of the Governors' Conference executive committee that he would like to advise and counsel with them tomorrow on a tentative plan.

He said it involves a limited and temporary extension of the duration of unemployment compensation benefits. The amount of weekly benefits apparently would remain the same as the states now pay. These vary widely, but the national average is about $30 a week. States now fix their own limits on amount and duration of payments.

Washingtonville Home Is Damaged By Gas Explosion

WASHINGTONVILLE — Firemen were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Queen Sr. of Boston St. at noon Monday following a gas explosion.

Extensive damage was done to the bath room and kitchen.

The elderly couple were at home at the time of the explosion, but were uninjured.

The damage, which has not been estimated, is covered by insurance.

Officials of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. are investigating to determine the location of the leakage.

County-Wide Drive Set April 1

Cancer Fund Campaign Plans Are Advanced

Thirty-four persons attended a special meeting Monday night at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon to advance plans for the county-wide cancer fund drive which will begin April 1. Walter A. Hunston, county chairman, presided.

Attending from Salem were Louis C. Moushey, County Commissioner, Galen Greenleaf and C. Raymond Reich, United Commercial Travelers members, and Marilyn Loudon. Moushey is chairman of the Ohio UCT Cancer Committee.

William J. Mackey, chairman of the Salem drive, was unable to attend. He is expected to announce his committee members soon. The campaign here will consist of three principal phases: mail appeal, house-to-house canvass and the placing of canisters in retail establishments.

Well-placed sources disclosed the move as the special investigating committee sought to determine whether law enforcement favored either side in the UAW's bitter, marathon strike against the company.

The strike now is nearing the end of its fourth year without sign of a settlement. The company is operating with nonstrikers and new employees.

Banner Proclaims Salem Band as National, State Champions

Salem's Ohio and National Championship American Legion Quaker City band now has a colorful lead banner which, when used in parades, will call proudly to the past accomplishments of the aggregation.

The banner was presented to the band Monday night during its spring concert at the High School auditorium, a gift of the band auxiliary.

The 12-foot banner has green lettering on a gold background, with the dates of the band's championship wins listed in black lettering on the sides.

An appreciative audience enjoyed the band concert Monday night. A Liberace pantomime and vocal solos were contributed by Dr. Wade McGhee.

Curtis Vaughan, president of City Council and vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, made a civic appeal for support of the band. Mr. Vaughan explained the expense involved for band uniforms, music and travel. The band plans to participate in the state contest in July, and the national American Legion band contest in September at Chicago.

Dems Draft $40 Tax Slash Plan

Proposed as Stand-by Anti-Recession Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democrats are drafting a proposal for a $40 lump-sum tax cut to boost the lagging economy if business and employment fail to turn upward soon. It would provide a two-billion-dollar cash jolt.

As outlined by a responsible official who did not want to be quoted by name, the proposal would involve a $40 rebate on tax withholdings in the pay periods immediately after passage of any such bill. This amount of tax liability would be wiped out.

If $40 or more were withheld in a pay period, the individual would get that amount in a lump sum. If less than $40 were withheld, the worker would receive the rebate as fast as it could be made.

To Encourage Spending
The official who disclosed this plan said it was aimed primarily at putting into the hands of those who file 48 million tax returns enough money in one sum to encourage immediate expenditures.

If the people got $40 in a lump sum they would be more apt to buy a chair or something of that sort than if they get the tax reduction back over a year's period at the rate of less than $1 a week," he said.

Both the congressional Democrats and the Eisenhower administration have postponed any final decision on tax reductions until

Oregon Man Held in Theft Of $100,000

HALFWAY, Ore. (AP)—The quiet, sober man who was cashier at the only bank in this little eastern Oregon town was accused Monday of making off with nearly $100,000 over the years.

Elmer Ritter, 52, who had a reputation for frugality, was arrested within hours of announcement that the money was missing.

"I would have entrusted him with my life," said bank president Walter Evans, who promptly closed the independent First National Bank of Halfway, and said it would stay closed unless some bigger bank decides, after a complete audit, to buy it.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. said the bank had assets of about $336,000. The FDIC said the bank's directors had voted to turn it over to the controller of currency for liquidation. The FDIC insures deposits up to $10,000.

Ritter, who started working in the bank in 1924, owns a 160-acre ranch in this cattle-raising country.

A charge that he embezzled $99,050 over an unspecified number of years was filed with the U.S. commissioner at Portland. The shortage was uncovered by bank examiners.

Ritter's 86-year-old father formerly was president of the bank in this town of about 50 persons. He now is chairman of the board. His son always had been regarded as financially well off.

No One Hurt As Projectiles Hit 3 Homes

Cannon Shells Pelt Town in Wisconsin

SHEBOYGAN FALLS, Wis. (AP)—Explosive cannon shells whipped out of the sky Monday night, pelting streets and hammering in to at least three houses.

No one was injured, but residents of the area were warned to be on the lookout for any other shells which might be unexploded.

The blue-tipped projectiles were identified as shells from 20 mm. cannon mounted on American military aircraft.

Capt. Robert Dietz, Air Force information officer at Chicago's O'Hare Field, said he was informed the shells came from a B47 based at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, Ohio.

At Lockbourne AFB, Lt. Billy Baxter, an information officer, said the only Lockbourne plane over Wisconsin Monday night was an RB47 which did not have ammunition in its tail cannon, the only armament it carries.

The RB47 is a camera-equipped version of the six-jet B47 bomber. Lt. Baxter said the 26th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing had one RB47 flying in that general direction," but he said it was not scheduled to arrive in this area until after the cannon fire occurred.

Projectiles pierced the roofs of the John Novotny house here, the home of Lloyd Theune at nearby Oostburg and the residence of Francis Deely, Sheboygan Falls.

Police Chief Henry Dillmann of Sheboygan Falls said one shell

E. Palestine Council Clerk Is Elected

EAST PALESTINE — Warren Ashbaugh of 291 E. Main St. was elected clerk of City Council at its regular meeting Monday night. He succeeds the late Glenn R. Sutherland, who died March 1.

Ashbaugh, local correspondent for the Youngstown Vindicator, defeated Howard Moore of 481 N. Market St., an accountant, by a vote of four to three.

Robert Bott, chairman of the community service committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, advised Council that the Jaycees will start a telephone canvass of the city April 1, to determine the sentiment of the electors concerning the proposed purchase of a new fire truck.

If 50 per cent of the voters express a desire for a new truck, a bond issue will be placed on the November ballot.

Council members agreed to meet Monday to draw up standards for the acceptance of streets in four major sub-divisions. City engineer, George S. Bloomgren of East Liverpool, will present the plans.

Cole Is Elected By Health Board

County Unit Okays Budget for 1959

Howard Cole of Lisbon was elected president of the Columbiana County Board of Health at the Board's meeting Monday night at the health department office in the Courthouse at Lisbon.

He succeeds Walter Tschabold of Minerva RD 2, who resigned. Cole was vice-president in 1957.

Fred Johnson of Summitville was elected vice-president.

Mrs. Roy Archibald of Minerva RD 2 and Fred Hopper of Glenmore, new board members, attended the meeting.

The board passed the 1959 health department budget of $54,070, which is the same amount as this year's. However, members anticipate the income will be $10,870 short of expenditures, and they will ask the county commissioners to place a two-tenths mill levy on the Nov. 4 ballot to make up the deficit.

First reading was given to an ordinance establishing a $2 plumbing and sewage installation fee to be added to plumbing regulations. All members voted in favor of the fee.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, asked the board to authorize his attendance at the Lake Hope seminar April 29-30 and May 1. The board granted his request, and he, two county health nurses and the sanitarian will attend the meeting at which school health will be discussed.

The board's next meeting will be April 21 at 8 p. m.

Civil Service Group Re-Elects Officers

Reorganization of the Salem Civil Service Commission was held Monday evening.

W. Ray Pearce and Wallace Stewart were re-elected president and vice president, respectively, for the ensuing year. Roy Harris is clerk. Paul Fogg is the other member of the commission.

Members voted to apply for membership in the Ohio League of Civil Service Commissioners.

Library Strives Constantly To Serve the Reading Public

By DONNA AGAN

"What's the answer to today's 'cash-on-the-line' question?" "Jim, we've got to solve a problem in a hurry . . . it has to do with tensile strength of certain materials at . . ."

"How do you remove the scent from a skunk?"

Those are just samples of the many questions which are asked at the Public Library every day of the week.

LIBRARIAN JIM HAFFER or Miss Betty Miller, assistant librarian, or Mrs. Alfred Warrington, adult circulation assistant, never know what to expect from one day to the next. Neither do Mrs. John Pastier and Mrs. James Gorman, who are in the children's section.

This week is National Library Week and there's nothing to buy; nothing to donate. Should you have a couple of overdue books this week, the price is still two-cents per day. Inflation hasn't touched the library fine.

IN THE PAST FEW months Jim Haffer has added approximately 1,100 feet of shelf space. Even that extra footage won't shelve the results of yet another type of inflation — an exciting type — for in 1958 there will be over 14,000 books published. That figure includes all types of books from the $17.50 a copy "Subject Guide to Books in Print" to Erle Stanley Gardner's latest Perry Mason escapade.

The book publishing industry, is, paradoxically, the cause of Jim Haffer's never ending problem. From county intangible taxes, which support your library, the Salem receives $5,000 for the sole purpose of buying new books. At today's prices $5,000 will purchase approximately 3,000 new books.

Will there be 3,000 new books published this year worth spending your tax dollar for? "Should I," Jim asks himself, "go through last year's book lists, or the year before that, or even lists from 10 years ago?" Then, he must ask, if I buy 3,000 new books, where am I going to put them?

For Salem's library to serve you properly, Jim Haffer must deal in "present perfect tense" and "past perfect tense," because there just isn't room on the shelves for the "imperfect tense." Yet, the librarian's job is to anticipate your reading needs and demands.

A BOOK PUBLISHED 10 years ago, with little notice at the time, might suddenly become a very important book today. On the other hand, Jim anticipated and even predicted some weeks ago — even before most of knew there was such a book — that Anya Seton's new novel, "The Winthrop Woman," would be a best-seller.

There is the circle of decisions which go on behind the scene at your library. It is also why your librarian welcomes sincere suggestions from you. It might help also to answer your questions of "censorship" at the library.

"Censorship" at the library is mainly a mathematical problem, for Jim Haffer does not shy away from choosing books of factual controversy. Note the word "factual." However, your librarian says that emotional controversy, as opposed to factual controversy, are not selected.

The controversial fictional books you can buy at your bookstore for 35 cents, whereas the library must pay the publisher's price which is often too much for just temporarily controversial fiction.

THE MOST POPULAR book category for adults seems to be the "how-to-do-it" books, then come the useful arts, under the classifications: Medicine, engineering, agriculture, home economics, communications and business, chemical technology, manufacturers, mechanic trades and building.

Following these are the fine arts classifications of landscape and civic arts, architecture, sculpture, the three "D's" — drawing, decoration and design, then painting, engraving, photography, music and amusements.

Of fiction for adults the biggest demand is, of course, for science fiction, mysteries, and westerns.

5,192 SALEM PEOPLE have loan cards for your library. Over 1,000 books per week are checked out; and during the school months, that figure easily tops 1,500.

Rack in the reading room you will find 120 magazines and newspapers.

Many of you first meet your library through its "detectives." Your librarians might very well make excellent detectives, for they are trained to find answers. Sometimes when you call the librarian with your question all you can give is a clue, tip, or lead. Nevertheless, the librarian proceeds to the answer. Even if it involves writing the state library in Columbus for help, as Jim Haffer had to do when one of Salem's industrial engineers called up about the tensile strength problem.

Some of the answers Jim could find here; he knew, because Salem's library is not a technical library, that more complete answers were available. In a few days he had the information from Columbus.

When you call for the answer to some quiz, I'm sure that your librarians would like very much for you "to experience the thrill of discovery" — discover for yourself, that is, how very simple it is to find the answers to such ceaseless quizzes by just dropping into your library on your way home from work and glancing quickly in the reference books which are there.

Librarians plainly tell the many high school students who use the library that "we aren't here to do your homework for you." The librarian on duty will gladly tell the students where the various source books are located, and even get them off the shelf. But again the student must "experience the thrill of discovery."

As for the question which involves de-scenting skunks, the librarian on duty lost no time in finding that answer. The man not only came to the library with his question, but with the skunk — from his coat pocket he produced a baby skunk and placed it on the desk.

SOME MOTHERS run a regular taxi service back and forth to the library, especially on Friday afternoons when Mrs. James Gorman conducts her story hour. Along about the middle of the school year Mrs. Pastier is besieged by first-graders asking for "easy books to read so I'll get a gold star beside my name at school."

One invaluable service the library has is the children's reading service. Each week Mrs. Gorman and Mrs. Pastier choose books which Mrs. Gorman then takes out to Buckeye school and Prospect School and proceeds from room to room helping the children choose their extra reading material. This, too, is free.

Education is a life-long process. Today it's rather awesome to consider just how involved that educational process has become. Schools and universities can only give a foundation. Every time you choose a book from your library it's like adding a codicil to your education.

WHEN THE LIBRARIAN selects new books, adds services — all the tasks his job requires — he must keep our four objectives of library use in mind.

Your educational and informational objectives come first. Recently some of us may have remembered one of Bunyan's old allegories in which he said, "I come from the Town of Stupidity; it lieth about four degrees beyond the City of Destruction." For education and information has become our nation's life-line on freedom. A more contemporary observer said, "Human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe."

Sputniks and space have been brutal reminders of just how antiquated and dangerous it is for us to base our opinions and judgments on hearsay and rumors.

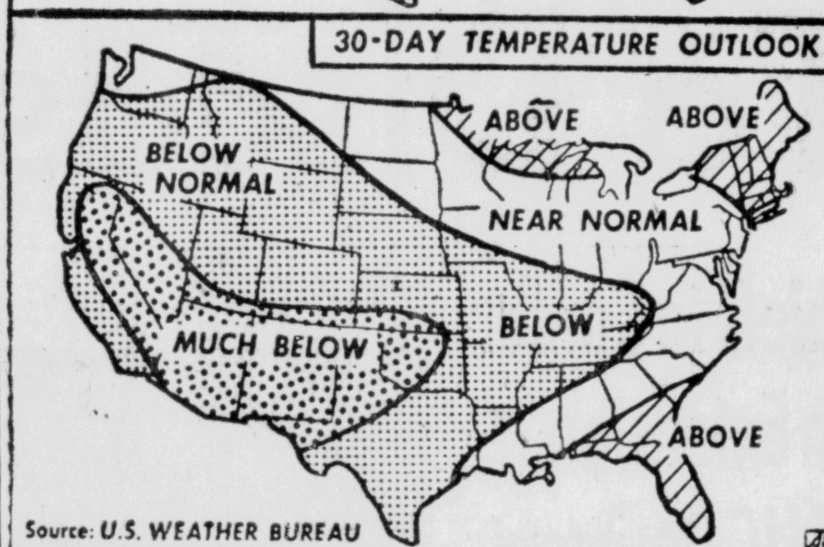

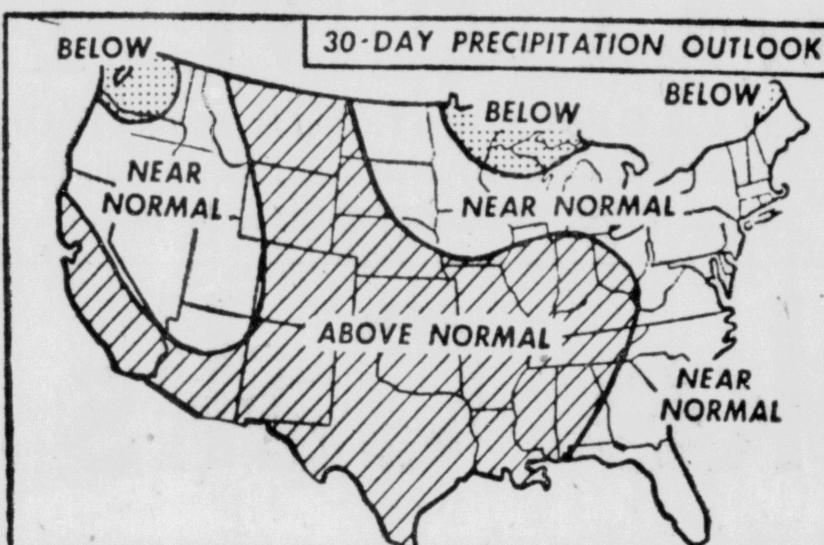

So your librarian must keep constantly alert for the latest and best digests, statistical data, important source books, and all of those huge reference books that are too expensive for the individual to buy let alone find a place to keep in his home. Our library has become our reference and informational center.

Many people use the library as their brain's "recreational center." Something entertaining, light and different to read is a great tranquilizer for the business man's tenseness or a mother and housewife's escape route from cares and worries. Your library can be a free "therapy center"; no prescription need for those "tranquilizers." But caution: They can be habit-forming!

AND THE FOURTH objective is such an intangible one that Jim Haffer has no possible measuring device. It's the inspiration your library gives to you. It's something that even you can't quite measure, because, inspiration is a many-faceted thing. Yet it's an important function of your library; and books are chosen with this purpose in mind.

Your library is like an intriguing haunted house. All those fascinating ghosts from man's past are housed there — luring you from shelf to shelf, and around the corners — still very much alive, quietly leading you through new doors.

100 Legionnaires Attend Banquet

More than 100 Columbiana County Legionnaires attended the 39th annual American Legion birthday banquet Saturday at the LePine-Rush Post in Hanoverton.

Dwight Bush of Homeworth, the county second vice commander, served as master of ceremonies. A. M. McLaughlin of Columbiana, county chaplain, and Roland Dorr of Kensington, chaplain of Post 664, offered the invocation and benediction, respectively.

The address of welcome was presented by Robert Poynter of East Liverpool, county first vice commander.

Walter J. Holmes of Winona, the county commander, introduced the guest speaker, Merle F. Brady of Van Wert, state commander. He discussed the part the Legion plays in supporting veterans rights through the Veterans Administration. A gift of china was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Brady.

John Herman Jr. of Salem, past district commander, conducted a memorial service.

Pantomime acts were presented by Patty Ehrhart of Salem. Other county officers present were: Dale Brenner of Hanoverton, adjutant; J. V. Hughes of Wellsville, finance officer; and Vernon Rose of Wellsville, sergeant-at-arms.

The next county council meeting will be April 11 at North Georgetown Post 574.

Crew Congenial After 1st 'Landing'

Another 'Space Flight' Planned by Air Force

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Even before the Air Force's five-man "space crew" is accustomed to walking around outside the simulated space ship where they spent five days, Wright Air Development Center reports it is planning another "flight."

Capt. John Roth, a neurological surgeon who helped monitor the 120-hour test which ended Monday, said another may be made in a month or six weeks.

The five-man test crew was in high spirits after "landing" Monday following a simulated 17,650-mile flight.

"Everybody expected us to be at each other's throats," Capt. Dan D. Fulgham, 30, of Pasadena, Tex., said, adding: "I never spent a more amiable time in my life."

The flight commander, Maj. Russell D. Brewington, 33, of Houston, Tex., agreed that there was no morale problem.

"They were congenial as hell," he reported.

The "flight," second to be held by the WADC, was to determine what effect long confinement in close quarters would have on morale and efficiency of space crews.

The men, all volunteers and all veteran pilots who have logged at least 3,000 hours flying time, spent their five-day test in a cabin 17 feet long, 7 feet wide and 6 feet high.

U.S. Scientist Warns Of Soviet Supremacy

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller, who has been called the father of the H-bomb, issued a scathing indictment of education in this country Monday night, calling Americans "scandalously undereducated in science."

"Unless Americans accept the challenges of today," the scientist lecturer said, the world will become a vast Soviet satellite and within 10 years Russia will be scientifically supreme.

"Thanks to our education today," he declared, "we shall develop the best football players in the world—for whatever good that does us."

He urged science education in the first grade, commenting that there are more educated youngsters in Russia than in this country.

Children here are taught quickly that education is boring, Dr. Teller said in the 69th Hanna Memorial Lecture in Severance Hall in Russia he added respect for learning comes close to adoration.

President McKinley's Niece, 94, Succumbs

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held in nearby West Farmington Wednesday for Mrs. Samuel Cross, 94, a niece of President William McKinley, who died Monday.

She lived in Trumbull County for the last 35 years. Her father, James McKinley, was a brother of the late President.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Vanguard Blazes a Trail to the Future

The difference between Vanguard's delayed success and Jupiter-C's success is this: Vanguard is more important than the satellite it put into orbit, whereas the satellite Jupiter-C put into orbit was more important than the rocket engines that carried it into space.

Jupiter-C is essentially a guided missile converted to satellite-launching. Vanguard is the forerunner of a special kind of rocket designed to speed the conquest of outer space.

Its potentialities are vastly greater than those of Jupiter-C, which is designed for military use. That is why Vanguard has been referred to by engineers as a "sophisticated" rocket, meaning that its evolution holds the promise of infinitely greater performance than the evolution of Jupiter-C.

These are important distinctions.

Rocket evolution in the United States, unlike the evolution of the airplane, is going to be the responsibility of the federal government. There will be no counterpart of the Wright brothers, tinkering with a new device in a bicycle repair shop, experimenting in privacy with one idea, then another, until the government could be given a working model of a new tool for warfare.

This time the government, itself, is responsible for the tinkering—and answerable to Congress and public opinion. Unless public opinion can be kept informed, the arrangement will be awkward. It might be unworkable.

The belated success of Vanguard proves that the Geophysical Year project that it represented in federal planning has come through approximately on schedule. What was to have been done this spring has been done. What was attempted prematurely with Vanguard failed, as many felt sure it had to fail, because the "sophisticated" rocket was not ready. Congressional and public opinion were responsible for the failures.

Arthur C. Clarke, Britain's Willy Ley, who is in the United States on exchange from England for the International Geophysical Year, points out that mankind is entering a second stage of evolution, in which he will master the environment of outer space, as he has been mastering the environment of earth up to this time.

Vanguard is this country's specific instrument for this tremendous project—the space-age counterpart of the Wright's first airplane that blazed the trail for mastery of the earth's atmosphere.

When the Cat Uses Its Claws

Every farmer whose wheat acreage is under question by the federal regulators has a lively interest in the seizure of an automobile owned by Dr. S. P. Whiteleather of Minerva.

He has chosen to be the guinea pig in a test of the wheat-acreage regulation. Whatever the government can do to him is theoretically can do to any of the dozens of bona fide farmers who are in the same fix.

United States marshals can show up on their property and seize whatever promises to satisfy an administrative judgment against them.

This can happen anywhere in the nation. It is implicit in the federal control of wheat acreage that the government shall have the power to punish as well as to reward farmers.

When the cat uses its claws, it is the same cat that purrs—not so easy to love, not so nice to have around and not so easy to trust as it was before. But the claws go with the purr.

Retribution goes with agricultural benefits. The loss of personal control goes with the surrender to the government of personal authority.

The bump on the nose goes with the farm benefits.

Defenders of agricultural individualism have been warning farmers about this ever since agricultural benefits began to limit the proverbial freedom of the men who till the soil in this country.

The seizure of Dr. Whiteleather's automobile to satisfy a federal claim against him for alleged violation of a regulation that is being widely challenged has done more to show which way the wind is blowing than 10 years of warnings. Every farm operator now knows that the stick with the enticing carrot on the end can be used as a club.

The illustration is priceless.

It is worth the cost of a million automobiles like the one the U.S. marshals took over to punish Dr. Whiteleather for defying Washington.

Problem For Expense Account Society

If it had been necessary to explain what the issue is between Internal Revenue Service and expense-account abusers in the United States, the admission of New York restaurant owner that his luxury business was geared to the "tax problem" should have made everything clear.

Legitimate expenses can be deducted from taxable income. The shadowy area between expenses that are legitimate and those that represent high living on tax-free money has become a matter of concern for IRS. It ruled last November that all future tax returns should show how much a person was paid for business expenses on which he did not pay tax. This ruling quickly was superseded by a ruling that no special records would be required, only a special statement that would show disproportionate claims for tax-free spending. That ruling now has been superseded by an IRS declaration that only employees who do not account to their employers for expense money must report the total of their tax-free spending.

The intent of the latest ruling is to relieve the conscientious spender of expense money of the burden of proof, if his employer already is responsible for a correct statement to IRS. Instead of using a blunderbuss to bring down the fat cats of Expense Account Society who live like kings on money that doesn't belong to them and bears no taxes, the government will use a high-powered rifle with a telescopic lens.

There will be fewer junkies to warm climates in January and February, in the guise of business trips; fewer Lucullan feasts paid for by the government; fewer whappings underwritten by other U.S. taxpayers. Expense Account Society will have to shift to what may seem like an austerity program.

But there is not a single case on record of death by starvation or exposure of any U.S. citizen with the privilege of turning in an expense account. The basic axiom of Expense Account Society that anyone who cannot squeeze out a new overcoat each winter isn't trying will still prevail.

It's fine for life to begin at forty, but why do rheumatism and arthritis have to butt in?

BUT THE KIDS can't be blamed too hardly for the present situation. They have come up from infancy in an economy which takes the auto for granted. Rarely have they seen mommer or popper on foot, except between house and garage. "Nobody walks" used to be a baseball slogan. Today it is a national concept for living. "Can you afford it?" is considered an old-fashioned question and not entirely by the young.

Still, the prexy's crackdown may do some good. It will at least require that all applicants for aid in a college course apply on foot, with no student getting a head start in an imperial sedan.

A POSSIBLE COMMENT by either side in recent ladies dress strike as one side began to weaken. "Your slip is showing."

Ed Wynn, whose switch from a great comedian to a fine player of serious parts, is versatile but watching him play Lincoln on video gave you the feeling Booth shot the wrong man.

Ed Murrow is talked of for U.S. Senate. In one of these bitter party dialogues it could be a case of "Poison to Poison."

Whatever became of the old-fashioned cop or other law enforcement officer who demanded, "Wipe off that smile!" when any criminal posed for pictures with ear to ear grin despite his revolting crime?

The new chemise style in gals' clothes is selling, despite the "sack" attack. Dress shops are so confident it will be a success that they declare, "It's in the bag."

After taking almost 14 months the Civil Aeronautics Board finally came through with a verdict in the tragic Rikers Island, Fla., plane crash, blaming it on the pilot.

Liz Taylor says she will quit the movies if Mike Todd insists. Mike wants her to retire and do her wifely duty in helping him spend more money.

Once Over

Did you notice a western college head has slapped down rule barring financial aid to students who bring cars to the campus? Presy said, "If a boy cannot pay his bills he can't expect college to give him enough financial aid to permit the luxury of an auto." Is horse sense coming back?—Mason T.

ANSWER — Yes, and we noticed the president's additional remark, "Students anxious for an education in horse and buggy days never dream they were entitled to college financial aid while they were whirling around in a surrey with the fringe on top." The comparison to horse and buggy age is stretching it a bit, because the auto has revolutionized habits, attitudes and standards of young and old, but the comment can do no harm say we. There is something offbeat in current scene in which people think nothing of driving in shining cars to borrow money, get a school loan, discuss postponement of a time payment or personify Will Rogers' famous reference to the "feller who drove over in his seven-passenger sedan to visit his mother in the poorhouse."

STREETS AROUND COLLEGES are jammed with student autos, and the western prexy may be right when he indicates too many boys park cars in front of the dean's office while they go in to explain they can't possibly get an education without time payments. There's a report of one case where a college president in an auto was in a collision with a student's bus and both had these explanations: The boy was in an extra hurry to see about a loan, and the president had gone through a caution light because he was concentrating on a university conference to curb financial aid except when Junior wanted it enough to give up gas and oil.

The Tottering Trestle

The Times Have Changed

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — It wasn't always like this. No one's shocked when Democrats and Republicans talk of a possible tax cut and red-ink spending to fight the recession. It took a depression to change American thinking.

Back in 1929 when the depression was starting — although few recognized it — Democrats and Republicans were thinking in terms of a balanced budget. Meaning: that government spending should not exceed government revenue from taxes.

On Nov. 13, 1929, Secretary of Treasury Andrew Mellon—spokesman for the Hoover administration — asked and got from Congress a tax cut for individuals and corporations. This wasn't an antidepressant step. Far from it.

President Hoover and Mellon had wanted such a cut for months. So on Nov. 13—just a few weeks after the fatal stock market crash in October — their views hadn't changed. This was their reason for wanting the cut:

They thought the government would be getting more revenue from taxes than it needed. Mellon even issued a statement expressing confidence "prosperity" would continue. It did just the opposite. By 1932 around 10 million were unemployed.

Then Hoover and Mellon asked Congress for, and got, a tax increase. Their reason this time: that with the depression spreading and revenue from taxes falling off, the budget would be unbalanced.

Congress—with Democrats controlling the House and Republicans the Senate—granted the request. It seems strange now that they would siphon off more spending money from people at a time when more spending was needed.

But neither party wanted an unbalanced budget, even to fight the depression. That same year, 1932, the Democratic campaign platform promised a balanced budget and a reduction in government spending.

Franklin D. Roosevelt promised the same thing in his presidential campaign that year. He did leave himself an out, however: in a speech at Pittsburgh he said, if people were starving, he'd let the budget go hang and spend.

He was a little mixed up at the start on how to fight the depression. At his request Congress granted him authority to fire a number of government workers and reduce veterans' pensions.

This was at a time when unemployment was staggering, and firing people only added to the chaos. It wasn't long before he launched out on huge red-ink government spending to create jobs and boost the economy. The budget has been balanced in only four of the years since then.

In the years between 1933 and 1939—when the defense program started and it gradually became necessary to slap taxes on practically everyone—the people in the lower income groups were pretty much left untouched by tax boosts.

But in that same 1933-39 period Roosevelt asked for and got increased taxes on business, on individuals in the higher income brackets, and, among other things on states.

Right now because budget balancing in government is a sound way to operate—if at all possible—the Democratic and Republican leadership is hesitant about cutting taxes. They talk of waiting to see if the recession gets worse.

If it does, there seems no doubt both parties will approve a tax cut on individuals, and probably on corporations, and for this reason: to provide people with more money to spend.

So They Say

They (American girls) all look the same — long blonde hair, eyes closed and mouth hanging open. It's a phony sex appeal. Foreign girls look different from one another. There is nothing manufactured about their beauty. — Italian actress Sophia Loren.

In 1917 the Arab nation was divided by strokes of a pencil into spheres of influence... Today the age of foreign domination is over for good. This is the end of imperialism and its agents who sold their countries. — Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the new United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria.

Privileged Unionism

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Labor Groups Taking Important Part in Politics

Is coercion by force or threat of force necessary to maintain trade unionism in America? Can't it succeed by processes of reason and voluntarism? Why should violence be incited?

Why are millions of dollars of the workers' dues used for campaign contributions to help elect members of Congress when David Lawrence there is a federal law forbidding it? Why are citizens in free America compelled to pay tribute as the price of getting or keeping a job? Isn't the "right to work" as important to preserve as any other civil right protected by the Constitution?

These questions arise when one reads the testimony currently being given before the Senate committee on "rackets" and the speech just put into the "Congressional Record" by Rep. Ralph W. Gwynn (R-N.Y.), who says that approximately $735,000 was spent recently by a single union to elect a United States senator. Mr. Gwynn says:

"In the 1956 elections, organized labor was active in 30 of the 435 congressional district elections and were successful — that means that their man got elected — in more than 175. And when I say the unions were active, I mean just that!"

"In addition to direct money contributions, labor-supported candidates received incalculable numbers of free campaign workers, union treasuries paid for untold hours of radio and TV time, 'friends' of the candidate inserted expensive full-page ads in the local newspapers.

"LET'S LOOK at just one campaign, in 1954, by one union for one senator, Special election radio and TV broadcasts cost for time only, with no allowance for staff, script preparation, reprints of talks was $250,000. Special election editions of regular publications, extra copies to distribute outside the regular publications, extra copies to distribute outside the regular union membership ran to another $175,000.

"And then, on top of all this, the union hired 500 'special organizers' — the payroll title for political workers — at $20 per day for the 30 days before the election. This cost another $300,000, exclusive of expenses or other services." To what extent have union labor contributions to political campaigns had their influence on the local level — in handling strikes? The United Press the other day reported from Washington this item from the hearings of the Senate committee on "rackets":

"Police Chief Steem W. Heimke of Sheboygan, Wis., testified today that a sheriff who seemed to be 'obligated' to the union did nothing to control a waterfront 'mob' during the Kohler strike. He also told the Senate rackets committee that officials of the United Automobile Workers' Union 'refused to assist me in any way' although a majority of those involved were strikers. . . .

"Heimke, then a police captain, testified that when he arrived on the scene, he overheard Mayor Rudolph Ploetz ask Sheriff Theodore Mosch 'how much are you obligated to the union for?' He said Mosch 'stuttered and stammered on noticing that Heimke was within earshot. Then, he said, the Mayor and sheriff, neither now in office, withdrew to continue their talk in private.

"MOSCH TESTIFIED previously that he received a campaign contribution from the United Auto Workers' Union."

So law and order broke down and through an appeal was made to the governor for the use of National Guard troops the request was refused on the ground that all the law enforcement resources of the county were not being used.

Intimidation can be as effective as actual violence in attaining union objectives. That's why strong arm methods are used in strikes nowadays. For every employer who takes a strike, rather than submit to extortion, there are thousands of employers who are afraid to do so. Likewise, most employees are afraid to cross picket lines. Coercion — not free speech — is, therefore, the basis of "picketing" today.

The "right to work" is denounced by so-called "liberals" and others as "the right to scab." Coercion is used to enforce the epithet. All this happens in free America where the Communist system of election is ridiculed as undemocratic but, yet where the improper use of money and muscle to keep citizens from working who want to work is tolerated and acquiesced in by the Congress and many of the state legislatures.

Stockholders' Big Day

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — The nation's stockholders are about to have their big day. Annual meetings already are under way and will flourish in the next 10 weeks.

And this time what the owners ask management about the results of the recent past and the prospects of the immediate future may have more bite than in some jollier years.

Opening statements of chairmen of the board seem almost certain to stress the need in these times for confident thinking.

More stockholders than ever are expected to turn out. Attendance at annual meetings has grown steadily since the war. Many firms have had to dig up larger quarters to hold the crowds. Most serve a meal and some furnish transportation.

The total number of stockholders has grown in the past year. It is now well over eight million persons. American Telephone and Telegraph has the most, 1,600,000. General Motors is second with 717,000. Jersey Standard Oil third with 465,000. General Electric next with 380,000 and Ford Motors (late comer to the public ownership field) fifth with 280,000.

Some meetings should be love feasts. A nice handful of companies can report record earnings in 1957. Many can speak cheerfully about prospects. Stockholders in 229 of the 1,098 companies with common stock listed on the New York stock exchange know that the price of their shares increased in 1957. Some are at record highs now.

Other corporate situations may call for more explanation to the owners. Since New Year's day about 150 corporations have cut or omitted dividend payments. But some other companies have much to brag about.

The Exchange, monthly publication of the N. Y. Stock Exchange, says 648 companies listed have paid quarterly dividends regularly for 10 years or longer, with 45 of these boasting records of 50 or more years of unbroken payments.

Many stockholders attending their year's meetings will be reporting much larger holdings than last year.

Thirty-two companies listed last year sold 33,363,355 additional common shares to their stockholders through issuing rights for a total purchase of $1,522,752,420.

The N. Y. Stock Exchange also brags that its brain child, the monthly investment plan of selling stocks on a pay as you go basis, in its four years of life has accounted for sales of 2,059,165 common shares for $80,600,000.

Direct sales of new issues to the public and new listings have brought the number of common shares listed on the exchange this year to 4,632,298,911, up 483,737,538 in 12 months.

The total is swelled by listings on other exchanges: American Stock Exchange in New York, Pacific Coast Exchange in San Francisco and Los Angeles, Midwest Stock Exchange in Chicago, and those in Cincinnati, New Orleans, Salt Lake City and Spokane, Wash.

No Formal Charge Filed Against Slayer of Two

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Prosecutor Thomas P. O'Brien intends to wait for a "reasonable time" before bringing formal murder charges against a man who said he tossed his two children into the Ohio River.

The Ohio County prosecutor said he expects about Tuesday from Dr. Albert Wanner a written report on a sanity test given John Turner, 33-year-old unemployed steelworker from Beech Bottom, at the county jail Saturday.

Police continued to believe Turner's story of how he dropped his two children, 7-year-old Betty Marie and John Jr., 4, from the Fort Henry bridge into the Ohio River last Thursday night.

Officers said their belief was based on statements taken from the man and his grief-stricken, semi-invalid wife. Bodies of the children have not been recovered.

Thinking It Over--For Lent

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Life expectancy has been extended by many years with scientific development. Health - giving diets, vitamins, sanitation and medical discoveries have prolonged the life span. We can now expect to live 20 or 30 years longer than our recent ancestors.

Are we using this longer life for the benefit of selfish desires? Somehow it seems futile to extend life while developing more tragic means of taking life. The bow and arrow, the sword and spear endangered young men who dared take up the deadly arms many years ago. Guns increased the possibility of violent death.

Atom bombs endanger millions of young folk and old alike who have never thought of fighting nor of killing people. The non-belligerents will increasingly become involved in future conflicts.

We should all do well to use the extra years of our lives to extend the kingdom of God. The world needs more love, more kindness, more forgiveness. We need more friendship and less of sin and less of destruction. We have some extra years. Let us use them well!

CAMERA TALK

Behind The Scenes:

Tulip Time is in its 29th year. The spontaneity and first enthusiasm of early years have passed long since. Organized community facilities have taken over many of the separate projects. Under this arrangement institutional stature has gradually been attained.

City streets are planted with hundreds of thousands of tulips by the Municipal Park Department. Public and parochial schools produce the Thursday Children's Parade and the Children's Festival at Kollen Park. High school "Physical Ed" and "Home Ec" instructors train the 300 wooden-shoe dancers and assure that their costumes authentically represent the provinces of Old Holland.

The City Street Department sets up curb seating and bleachers for parades. The Police Department marks the Tulip Lanes, places directional signs and directs the distribution of programs to motorists, going far beyond the normal call of duty to keep traffic moving and guests happy. Hope College provides outstanding entertainment as a curricular activity. The Garden Club provides a flower show of the highest standard. The Merchants Association provide sidewalk scrubbers. The Fire Department supplies water for them.

Mothers of school children sew and keep clean thousands of costumes. The Klompen Dancers train day after day for months in preparation. Citizens scrub the streets. Talented residents gratuitously arrange the unbelievable amount of detail necessary to a four-day period of entertainment. Many hundreds of homes are opened to visitors for sleeping accommodations. Civic-minded groups prepare meals for festival guests. The Mayor and Common Council participate in parades and official hospitality.

The Dutch Village exhibit includes the municipally sponsored Netherlands Museum and Little Netherlands Mini-tour. Lunch-oon Clubs participate in many ways. Holland's Windmill Chorus producing the Parade of Quartets Friday evening program, is a community organization of long standing in S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.

Net proceeds of all paid attractions are used for the expense of correspondence, program distribution and administration through a non-profit Tulip Time Corporation appointed jointly by the Common Council and Chamber of Commerce. Local radio and nearby TV (color) stations cover the festival. The Holland Evening Sentinel produces a Tulip Time edition that is a model for dailies throughout the nation. The fifteen percent of our people who are not of Dutch descent are as active in festival affairs as the Hollanders. Tulip Time is truly a community affair.

PRINTS RIVAL EASTER BLOOMS

Flowers Unfold Vividly on Dark Silk Backgrounds

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — There is no place and no time for the silk print dress like the Easter parade. This year, it will keep company with the silk coat or the coat that's a mixture of silk-and-wool.

Prints start blooming in the early winter but somehow, the prettiest prints of the year are those that bloom at Easter. Maybe it's the time of the year or the mood set by spring weather, but they look just exactly right.

Background for these spring prints is often dark: black, navy or even brown. But on this background flourish the most beautiful roses, carnations and daisies this side of heaven.

Companion piece for the slim print dress is the silk coat, its fabric slightly stiffened to stand away from the body. In navy or in red or in beige, it shines. It may be slim and straight this year or high-waisted with a very slightly belled skirt.

Its elegance makes it exactly right for the Easter parade. With it, there should be one of those gorgeously flowering hats, the kind without which the Easter parade would be dull indeed.

After the Easter parade, the silk coat will go lots of dressy places during the spring and even in the summer. Many women find it indispensable and have it each year anew in the current silhouette.

THE HIGH-WAISTED SILK COAT will walk beautifully in the 1958 Easter parade. This one, by Ben Zuckerman, is in red imported silk brocade. It's cut with a standaway collar, three-button closing and slightly belled skirt. Silk print for Easter Sunday (right) is dress-and-jacket costume in charcoal. This is a Branel design. It's worn with a flower cap by Lilly Dache.

Mrs. John Kryk Is Elected By United Lutheran Women

SOC — MRS. JOHN KRYK... of the business meeting and welcomed the 58 in attendance.

Mrs. Ward Zeller gave the report of the nominating committee, after which the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. John Kryk; first vice president, Mrs. Edward Thomas; second vice president, Mrs. George Schmid; recording secretary, Miss S. H. Davidson; financial secretary, Mrs. Howard Moore; and treasurer, Mrs. Ann Auman.

Proposed amendments to the constitution were read, and will be voted upon at the June general meeting.

Mrs. Wade Schaefer reported on plans for the spring congress to be held at Holy Trinity Church in April. Seventeen Lutheran churches from this district of the Eastern Conference will be invited to the conference.

Mrs. H. C. Funk, chairman of the membership committee, introduced the cast for the skit, "Bringing in the Sheaves" which was presented during the program.

The cast included: "Mrs. Shy," Mrs. Milan Miles; "Mrs. Church Pillar," Miss Jeanette Hoch; "Mrs. Long Face," Mrs. Sara Groner; and "Mrs. Welcome," Mrs. Glenn Whitcomb. Miss Ruth Hoch directed the skit.

Devotions concluded the meeting when Mrs. James Zimmerman read the scripture, followed by prayer and a hymn.

The circles will meet separately next week, with another general meeting scheduled for June.

Veterans Guide

(By Veterans Administration)
Q — My state has just paid me a veterans' bonus. Must I count it as income for VA pension purposes?

A — No. Under a recent law, state bonuses are not to be considered as income for pension purposes.

Q — I exchanged my permanent GI insurance for a paid-up policy of a smaller amount on which I no longer have to pay premiums. Will I continue to receive dividends on this paid-up policy?

A — Yes. Your paid-up policy will share in any dividends declared.

Q — Would the fact that I previously had attended a farm school prevent me from taking on-the-farm training under the Korean GI Bill?

A — The law would prevent you from taking GI farm training if the proposed course is substantially equal to the course you already had in school. If it's not the same as your school course, you could take it under the Korean GI Bill.

Q — Since I am eligible for VA outpatient treatment, could I just go to my family doctor and have him send VA the bill for his treatment of my service-connected disabilities?

A — No. You first must obtain VA approval for medical care by your family doctor.

Cancer Fund

It was reported that 185 deaths were caused by cancer in the county in 1957 and that there are 122 active cancer cases in the county now.

Sixty per cent of the amount collected in Columbiana County remains in the county, and 40 per cent goes to state organizations. Last year the county unit furnished transportation, medication, diagnostic tests, X-ray treatments, dressings, sick room supplies, and cooperated with other agencies in aiding cancer patients.

The educational program last year included:

Four scholarships given to registered nurses actively engaged in public health work, films loaned to clubs and other organizations, distribution of literature, hospital workshops for student and graduate nurses, speeches to groups by physicians and school programs.

Mrs. Jayne Calhoun of Lisbon is president of the county organization; Edna Jones, East Liverpool, vice president; Evelyn Simpson, East Palestine, secretary; and Mrs. Mary McCullough, East Liverpool, treasurer.

April 13 has been set aside as "Cancer Sabbath" and will be observed in all churches in the county.

Others attending Monday's meeting were Jeanette Carpenter, Edna Jones, Dorothy Horsley, Louis Tobin, Ray J. Parker, Jane Jolly and Richard Brian of East Liverpool; Marion Baughman, Margaret Todd, Evelyn Springer, Jean Broderick, Dorothy McCreary, Dorothy Katz, Peggy Rawlings, Betty Jackson and Freda Paisley of Wellsville; Mrs. Calhoun, Charles R. Webber, Mary Alice Rumberger of Lisbon; Evelyn Simpson, Violet Peterson and Mildred Ashbridge of East Palestine; Kathryn G. Mundy, Beulah Downard and Ellen S. Conlin of Salineville; Edward Greenamyer of Leetonia; William Maple of Kensington; Josephine Purrey of Hanoverton and John Pickins of Homeworth.

Mrs. Jolly is executive secretary of the drive.

ington, and Timmerman, South Carolina. Most indicated they would attend, but Gov. Timmerman said he was ill with flu.

The present UC program is financed by a federal payroll tax paid mainly by employers. The federal government retains a small percentage to pay its administrative costs and allots the remainder to separate funds from which the states pay the actual benefits.

May Hike Federal Share

It was reported those drafting the administration plan have considered raising that part of the tax going to the federal government. This would repay eventually money to be advanced to the states to extend UC benefits. States now pay veterans jobless payments benefits and later are reimbursed with federal funds.

Inasmuch as nearly two million of the five million unemployed are exempt from the U.S. system entirely—and never have received any jobless payments at all—consideration has reportedly been given to changing federal law to make such workers eligible for public assistance relief.

Potato Growers Assn. Re-Elects Officers

LISBON — The board of directors of the Columbiana - Mahoning County Potato Growers Association met Monday evening at the Salem Fruit Growers Cooperative headquarters in Columbiana and re-elected Elbert Agnew of Youngstown president; Howard Wise of Columbiana, vice president; and A. W. Andrick of Columbiana, secretary - treasurer.

The board also started planning for the eastern Ohio potato field day to be held at Firestone Farms, east of Columbiana, August 15.

Deaths, Funerals

Miss Jacque Funeral

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday in East Cleveland for Miss Ruby Jacque, 75, of 1830 Rosaline Ave., East Cleveland, who died suddenly Sunday at 4:30 p.m. Burial will be about 2 p.m. in Oakdale Cemetery in Leetonia.

Mrs. Oscar Thomas

NEW WATERFORD — Mrs. Harriett M. Thomas, 91, formerly of New Waterford died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Harrell of Des Moines, Ia. Born here Dec. 26, 1866, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Mercer. In 1900 she married Oscar Thomas, who died in 1935.

She was a member of the New Waterford Presbyterian Church. Besides Mrs. Harrell, with whom she resided the past 12 years, she leaves two sons, Roger Thomas of Ravenna and Stanton Thomas of Columbus; five grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be Friday at 2 p.m. at the Warrick Funeral Home in Columbiana, with Rev. Donald K. Sinclair, pastor of the Ravenna Congregational Church officiating. Burial will be in New Waterford Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening.

there are clearer indications of the direction in which the economy is headed.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate GOP leader, said he expects no final decision now on the timing of a possible tax cut and does not believe any administration bill has taken shape.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee said in a separate interview that any tax change should "provide for tax reduction primarily on the basis of stimulating business."

Officer Thomas Winter said other shells exploded in the street here.

Unexploded shells were recovered from the three homes.

Mrs. Novotny said a bullet struck a chest of drawers in the second-floor bedroom where her three little daughters were asleep. The chest stood on the spot where the bed had been located last week before Mrs. Novotny moved the furniture.

New Waterford Lions To Hear Judge Tobin

Judge Louis Tobin will be guest speaker at the New Waterford Lions Club meeting Thursday at the Fish and Game Building.

Each member is invited to bring a teen-age guest to the dinner at 6:15 p.m. Henry Garrod, president, will conduct the business meeting.

The program, arranged by Robert Wolfe, will begin at 7:15 p.m. and the public is invited to attend. Garrod, Bert Keck, Lester Unger and Charles Richardson attended the Lions Zone meeting at East Liverpool last week.

4,240 Car License Tags Are Sold Here

A total of 4,242 auto license plates has been sold here so far, according to A. P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

Truck and trailer tags sold number 977, he said.

Although the issuance of auto plates is proceeding at a faster pace than it did at this time last year, the truck and trailer tag sale is lagging, Morris said.

In 1957 a total of 9180 auto tags was sold. Truck tags issued amounted to 2,774; trailer licenses, 1,076; farm truck plates, 1,152.

'Keep Dogs Chained,' Authorities Warn

Russell Reichenbach, county dog warden, issued a warning today to dog owners that they will be prosecuted if they let their dogs run at large.

Mayor Harold D. Smith says persons found guilty will be fined $50 for violating a city ordinance.

Police officers have been instructed to enforce the ordinance in answer to numerous complaints received from persons whose properties have been damaged by unchained dogs, Chief George Earley said.

80 Camp At Reservation

50 Salem Boy Scouts Advance to 2nd Class

Some 80 tenderfoot scouts from five Salem troops camped out at Camp McKinley near Lisbon last weekend.

The troops are Troop 2 of the First Methodist Church, Troop 3 of the Presbyterian Church, Troop 5 of the Christian Church, Troop 6 of St. Paul's Church, and Troop 23 of the Baptist Church.

Over 50 passed their requirements in the two-day campout to become second class scouts.

The scouts lived in cabins and ate at a central-type feeding at the old McKinley Home on the reservation.

Sunday, the Catholic scouts attended Mass at St. George's Church in Lisbon while Protestant scouts attended church at the Old Stone House on the reservation. The service was conducted by the Rev. Thomas Hammerton of the Lisbon Methodist Church.

The third and final session of the boy scout leaders basic training course will be held Friday at Camp McKinley beginning at 7:30 p.m., according to Frank Maas, Columbiana Council's training chairman.

Over 50 cub scout leaders of the county's Shawnee District attended an advanced training course for cub scout leaders at Camp McKinley last weekend.

The course covered two phases,

Danile, district executive from Lisbon.

The Shawnee District's Order of the Arrow Lodge held a weekend outing at the scout reservation for the purpose of improving the camp. Bruce Nichols of East Palestine was the leader.

The order is an honor camping group made up of scouts who qualify as honor campers in their district. They are nominated and elected in each troop in the district.

Jenny Lind, the famed "Swedish Nightingale" who won American hearts in 1850, was married to Otto Goldschmidt, a noted musical conductor in Boston.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

And now the investigated are investigating the investigators.

Victor Riesel

Jimmy Hoffa's Chicago social set has developed a sudden passion for saving the government's money and has protested that Sen. M. C. C. Clellan's sleuths are "inefficient" and "wasteful." So indignant are these friends over all this of Jim Hoffa "inefficiency" that they've investigated the committee's investigators and have dispatched "a complete report to Mr. McClellan."

The counter-investigation, which really is the first counter-offensive by the Hoffa clique against the racket-busting committee, was financed by one Allen Dorfman, owner of the Union Insurance Agency which handles virtually all of Jim Hoffa's Central Conference of Teamsters' welfare and pension insurance policies.

THE SENATE investigators, under Bob Kennedy's direction, have been mighty interested in all this, for, in roughly 10 years, the Teamsters' Central States organization will have about 750 million dollars in its various insurance pools.

The other day, Allen Dorfman, son of Paul Dorfman, Jim Hoffa's most intimate friend, charged that Senate investigators "are wasting ten of thousands of dollars" through inefficiency. "I would like to know why new investigators have to start from scratch each time they enter the picture, thereby completely wasting all the time, effort and money spent by previous investigators," the disturbed young executive asked.

What riddles young Dorfman is the fact that since last August his files have been "in the hands of eight different investigators."

Dorfman's sudden devotion to the government's financial stability might make him mighty unpopular in some Chicago circles — except for the fact that the aberration comes just at a time when many forces believe open season on the Senate racket-busting committee is here.

THE SHOUTING and table-thumping, the televised insults, the bickering over witnesses and the dening of opposing political forces, during the Reuther-Kohler indoor picnic has given the land the impression that the committee is so cut down the middle that never the twain shall meet. Okay, Republicans are Republicans and Democrats are Democrats, even on this committee — but the twain WILL meet quietly again.

This won't be until some time in mid-April, however. A survey by this agent reveals that there is no sentiment inside the committee to bolt, wal kou on future hearings, or call off new probes.

The war between the states as the Wisconsin-Michigan hearings soon will be known — will roll through next week and perhaps right up to the Easter recess. At that time the committee will go after the old game again. It will have its choice of tales of some 10 cities — including Chicago, home of Paul Dorfman, the singularly powerful friend of Hoffa.

The McClellan committee is counselor, Robert Kennedy, has been planning to put Paul Dorfman on the stand. Simple fact is that Mr. Dorfman, among other things, has long been Hoffa's business partner as well as close friend.

THE DORFMAN demand for a probe of the probes will not exactly create a senatorial crisis, nor will it postpone the committee's full probe of Chicago. But what will not be brushed off so easily is criticism of the committee that is rolling up inside legitimate labor circles — the kind of criticism the Dorfman tried to cut themselves in on in their search for protective coloration.

Ever since the opening of the Reuther - Kohler hearings, honest labor chiefs could hit the committee for probing the Auto Workers Union. This attack is building slowly but powerfully across the country and is the only real source of worry among friends of the committee.

The first big blast came from hard-hitting George Meany. It was picked up by Al Hayes, chairman of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee in a speech at Notre Dame. Hayes complained that labor now is wearying of five years of steady probing by various congressional committees — including this one.

Latest of the verbal assaults has come from the general counsel of

THE GRINNINGEST MAN IN WASHINGTON ----

He's the relatively new secretary of defense, Neil McElroy. The one, you'd think, who would have the least to grin about. It's understandable when a brand-new official goes around grinning for a couple of days. He hasn't found out what he's in for. But the time an official is "relatively" new on the job he should have seen enough to wipe that grin right off his face. Not so, McElroy. He goes right on grinning, although for several months now as defense boss he has had to carry around the heaviest set of woes and worries a man can be saddled with in Washington. Other day, after an unmerciful grilling before a Senate committee somebody asked him if he'd had a rough time. Flashing his understanding grin he said, "Not at all, it was fun." Assistant White House Press Secretary Ann Wheaton reveals that McElroy's grins are infectious, too, saying: "Other morning in the President's office I saw them both grinning like young boys." Photos below capture the newly famous McElroy grin.

Enigmatic grin.

Goin' away grin.

Ed Bode Named No.1 Small School Player

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Five youngsters, who combined for a 144-point per game average during the regular pre-tourney high school campaign, today won coveted first team berths on The Associated Press Class A All-Ohio basketball team for 1958.

Ed Bode, the 6-4 senior of Bethel Township's Little 14-boy school at Marr in Monroe County's hills, was named the state's No. 1 star in the smaller school division.

Of the 15 players on the first three all-star teams, only two will appear this weekend in the state tournament here. The others were ousted in the lose-and-out tournament grind, which eliminated 642 of the 646 quintets.

Ready to show their All-Ohio wares to the state tourney fans are Gary Gearhart of Dixie, Montgomery County, a first team selection, and Buddy Miller of Pleasantville, a second-stringer. Miller is the son of Pleasantville's coach, J. Franklin Miller.

With Bode and Gearhart on the first team are Marvin Walls of Ohio City, Don Fields of Port William, and Emil Hartman of the Ohio School for the Deaf at Columbus.

Bode, sidelined with mumps when Bethel lost its only regular season game, averaged 23.7 for the year. He was Bethel's lone returning veteran from last year's state tourney team.

Walls averaged 33.7 for the pre-tourney grind, Fields 30.4, Hartman 22.9 and Gearhart 22.8 to round out the "dream quintet." Only Walls was named from the northern half of the state—the first time the southern sector has dominated all-star selections to such an extent.

Hundreds of ballots by coaches, sports writers and officials furnished the data on which the selections were made. Announcement of the All-Ohio was delayed until state tournament week at the request of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Assn.

Although all the first stringers are prolific scorers, the ability to pile up points is only one of the bases upon which selections are made. Sheer individual brilliance in all phases of the game is necessary to land among the elite.

Bode, due to his heavy state-wide support, was named captain of the first team. The second team captaincy goes to Larry Prenger of Minster, and Dave Ohlin of Springfield Local is captain of the third.

Here are the state's Class A jewels, the best of some 10,000 who played with the 646 squads:

Cleveland Scores 9-6 Victory Over San Francisco in Benefit

By The Associated Press
Jack Littrell of the Chicago Cubs, who has played with 11 different baseball clubs in the minor and major leagues in 10 years, may be the latest to make the big switch from an infielder to a pitcher.

Littrell, no man to be feared by opposing pitchers as his .190 batting average in 61 games with the Cubs last year will attest, won his second Cactus League decision Monday when Chicago defeated the Baltimore Orioles 5-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

The 29-year-old native of Louisville, Ky., pitched two innings and allowed two hits and one run. The Cubs won it on a three-run homer by Walt Moryn with two out in the seventh inning. The game was limited to seven innings by agreement, since the Cleveland Indians defeated the San Francisco Giants 9-6 in the opener of the benefit double-header.

Cleveland slammed rookie Ernie Broglio for five hits and six runs in the second inning—one a two-run triple by Earl Averill. Frank Thomas hit two homers for Pittsburgh at Fort Myers, Fla., but the Chicago White Sox defeated the Pirates 7-4. Chicago got four runs in the fourth inning with the help of two wild pitches, two walks and an error. Vernon Law pitched five innings and gave up all the White Sox runs.

Richie Ashburn hit a double and three singles as the Philadelphia Phillies pounded Herman Wehmeier, Bob Miller and Bill Smith for 15 hits in a 6-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Washington Senators 9-6 at Orlando, Fla. Frank Robinson drove in six runs on a pair of homers, a single and sacrifice fly. Steve Biko also homered for Cincinnati.

The Milwaukee Braves belted Bob Turley of the New York Yankees for five runs, four on Wes Covington's grand-slam homer, in the first inning at Bradenton, Fla. Joe Adcock also homered in the inning. But the Yankees, breaking out with their lustiest batting surge of the spring, rallied for a 15-1 victory. Mickey Mantle, Andy Carey and Hank Bauer hit homers as the Yankees won their fourth straight.

The Los Angeles Dodgers had to go 10 innings to squeeze out a 3-2 victory over Spokane, their Pacific Coast League farm club, at Vero Beach, Fla. The Dodgers got only four hits.

Philadelphia to Meet Syracuse in Playoffs

By The Associated Press
The Philadelphia Warriors meet the Nationals tonight at Syracuse in the deciding game of their National Basketball Assn. Eastern Division first round best-of-playoff series.

The Nats won the opener at Syracuse Saturday night 86-82 and the Warriors bounced back with a 95-93 victory at Philadelphia Sunday night.

The winner meets the defending champion Celtics in the opener of a best-of-7 series in Boston Wednesday.

The Detroit Pistons begin their best-of-7 semifinal series with the Hawks at St. Louis Wednesday night. The Pistons eliminated the Cincinnati Royals in two straight games in their first round Western Division playoff.

Bragan Unimpressed By Playing of Avila

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Cleveland Manager Bobby Bragan is concerned about filling the Indians' third base and center field positions.

With the opening of the baseball season less than a month away, Bragan is dissatisfied so far with the play of Bobby Avila at third and Roger Maris in center field.

"Avila hasn't impressed me, because of his lack of doing things he should do," Bragan explains. "I would call them errors of omission rather than commission."

"I'm afraid to pre-judge Maris," Bragan comments, "and I'm hopeful he can do the job for us. But the way he went after a couple of fly balls concerns me."

Carroll Hardy, who obtained his discharge from the Army just before spring training started, played center field for the Indians Monday as they defeated the San Francisco Giants, 9-6. He got two singles and made seven putouts.

Freeman Doubtful About 1958 Prospect.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Right-hander Hershel Freeman, the Cincinnati Redlegs' best reliever two years ago, is still cautious about his 1958 prospects despite much improved throwing this spring.

He said Monday: "Wait till I have to dip back for that little extra in a tough relief job. Then I'll be able to tell just how good the old salary wing is."

In 1956 he had appeared in 64 games, winning 14 and losing 5, and Manager Birdie Tebbetts termed him the top relief pitcher in the National League. Last season he had a 7-2 record.

Fishing For North American Salmon by Japan Under Fire

By The Associated Press
The outdoors world is developing a full scale international incident of its own, with Japanese fishing for North American salmon on the issue.

Sports fishermen and even non-fishing conservationists are adding their voices to the protests that originally came from commercial interests, since recent American and Canadian studies indicate the whole salmon resource may be at stake.

The Japanese began their current high seas operation, in what North Americans claim is in violation of the 1951 North Pacific Treaty, in 1954 and have expanded it annually. Since Japan has no salmon spawning in her own territory, salmon taken on the high seas come chiefly from the coastal streams of the United States, Canada and Soviet Russia.

Particularly affected has been the red salmon resource of the Bristol Bay area of Alaska. The American section of the international North Pacific Fisheries Commission has proposed that the high seas zone where the Bristol Bay salmon go be designated a zone closed to all fishing this year.

Alternatives, the commission said, involved either closing the American and Canadian operation down altogether in order to achieve a reasonable escapement, or permit wide open fishing by the North Americans — "as the Japanese do, and destroy the cycle."

Three measures now are in Congress to authorize some additional high level negotiating. One resolution, by Sens. Magnuson and Jackson of Washington, directs the secretary of state to discuss treaty obligations and the closed zone with the government of Japan. A similar measure is in the House hopper. And a House bill would make it unlawful to import salmon taken on the high seas into the United States for sale, if the methods by which they were taken would have been unlawful "if practiced and performed by citizens of the United States."

Doctor Says Stokes Shows Improvement

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati doctor, one of four studying the elusive illness that struck down pro basketball star Maurice Stokes, holds out a little hope that the big athlete may recover completely.

Dr. Curwood R. Hunter said Monday night: "He has shown remarkable improvement since last Saturday night. There is reason to believe at this time that he will recover eventually and be able to return to his profession."

But recovery for the 6 foot 7 Stokes is still some time away. He was still in a coma and in critical condition Monday night at St. Elizabeth Hospital in nearby Covington, Ky.

Dr. Hunter said it looks like Stokes is suffering from encephalitis, or a brain inflammation, but a sure diagnosis will take time. He said Stokes is no longer totally unconscious and has opened his eyes when called by name.

Stokes, pro basketball's rookie of the year two seasons ago, was stricken on a flight back to Cincinnati Saturday night from Detroit with his Cincinnati Royals teammates.

Other Players Get Praise From Sievers

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — "Mickey Mantle is the only hitter with the power to break Babe Ruth's home run record."

"Ted Williams is the best hitter in the game."

"Stan Musial is the best all-around ball player."

The man who was so generous in his praise of others was Roy Sievers, the Washington slugger who beat both Williams and Mantle last year in the home run and runs batted in races.

"I don't have any ideas about any triple crown (batting, homers and RBI)," he said. "I'd just like to keep at least one of the titles I won last year. With hitters like Williams and Mantle around I have my work cut out for me."

"Somebody said I expected to hit 40 homers this year but I'd settle for anything over 30. I want to drive in over 100 runs and bat .300 again."

"I had a few breaks last year beating out Mantle and Williams. Both of them were out for a time with injuries. I got off fast and when I got ahead of them in late season I was able to stay ahead."

"Washington used to be a tough park to hit in. But since they moved left field in from 405 feet to 350 and made it 380 in left center it became a good hitting park. "I hit 26 at Washington and 16 in the other parks. I have no idea how many went into the new seats."

Sievers also hit .301 and drove in 114 runs in 1957. Usually nobody pays much attention to him until it is time to sign a contract. They say Sievers gets the highest salary the Washington club ever has paid. At an estimated $35,000, his salary was increased almost 10 per cent.

Defending Champion Bradley to Bump Into Xavier of Ohio

Top Seeded Dayton to Face Fordham in NIT

NEW YORK (AP)—Dayton and Bradley, the two basketball teams considered most likely to succeed, make their debuts in the National Invitation Tournament tonight against two outsiders bent on revenge.

Top-seeded Dayton (23-3) plays Fordham, (15-3), and Bradley, (20-6), the defending champion and No. 2 seed, bumps into Xavier of Ohio (16-11) in quarterfinals at Madison Square Garden. The Bradley-Xavier winner will meet St. Bonaventure and the Dayton-Fordham survivor will face St.

John's of New York in Thursday's semifinals.

The Fordham Rams absorbed their worst cuffing of the season (63-35) from Dayton Dec. 19. Last year, Bradley swept past Xavier 116-81 and set tournament records for total points for a game and for a half (72) during their climb to the NIT title. Xavier never has beaten Bradley in three meetings at Madison Square Garden. The Fordham, an 83-59 winner over St. Francis (Pa.) in a first-round game Saturday, has impressed both its coach, Johnny Bach, and Dayton's coach, Tom Blackburn, with its improvement.

"That earlier loss to Dayton was the only real bad beating we took this year," said Bach. "But if we can play like we did Saturday, we'll give them a good game. I waited two years to see this club look like it did Saturday." Blackburn echoed Bach's sentiments. "Fordham has improved very much," he said. "The way they looked against St. Francis, they could knock off any team in the country."

Xavier shook off an atrocious start to whip Niagara 95-86 in a first-round thriller Saturday.

Sugar Ray To Seek Title For 5th Time

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who dons and doffs the middleweight crown about as often as the next guy buys a hat, comes to Chicago today for next Tuesday's fight against champion Carmen Basilio.

Robinson will be seeking to win the middleweight championship a fifth time in what is expected to be a record indoor gate.

The International Boxing Club says there'll be a near capacity of 23,000 in Chicago Stadium with a gate of more than $500,000 for the rematch of a 15-rounder at New York last fall when Basilio lifted Robinson's title.

The indoor record of $422,918 by Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano in Chicago Stadium doesn't appear to have a chance to stand. Over $200,000 already is in the till. There'll be some $300,000 from theater television plus $300,000 from radio.

Chicago will be blacked out for theater television but will be included in the national radio broadcast.

Basilio, arrived in town Monday and with Robinson coming in today, the promoters will have the entire week to ballyhoo the fight with both contestants on hand.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, says all $5, $10 and $20 tickets have been sold. Some $15 tickets still remain along with most of the $3 and $40 ones.

The higher priced ducaats are expected to move quickly once it appears that Robinson, who has a notorious record of postponing fights, is all set to go.

Basilio, who won a close decision from Robinson last September, said on his arrival:

"I know what to expect from Robinson and he knows what to expect from me."

The 30-year-old champion said he weighs about 153½, about the same as the last time, and will stick mainly to road work in final preparations. His boxing will consist of three rounds a day.

Robinson, who like Basilio is a former welterweight champion, won the middleweight title in Chicago Stadium from Jake La Motta on Feb. 14, 1951. He lost it to Randy Turpin in London, England, on July 10, 1951, and regained it from Turpin with a 10-round knockout Sept. 12, 1951.

Sugar Ray, who claims he'll be 37 May 3 although the record book says 38, tried for the light heavyweight championship in 1952 but lost in 14 rounds to Joey Maxim. Six months later he announced his retirement.

Early in 1955 he started a comeback and on Dec. 9 of that year he won back the middleweight championship when he kayoed Bobo Olson in two rounds in Chicago Stadium.

Gene Fullmer won a 15-round decision and the title from Robinson in January 1957, but Sugar Ray came back four months later and knocked Fullmer out in five rounds—that, too, was in Chicago Stadium.

Stanley Cup Purse Hiked To $56,000

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs will carry the richest purses in history this year, with the jackpot increased $36,000 to $56,000.

From the $36,000, each member of the winning team in the regular season will receive $1,000; each player of the runnerup $500, each member of the No. 3 team $350 and each of the No. 4 club $150.

From the $17,000 pool, winners of the semifinal series will receive $1,250 a player and each member of the losers will get $750 each. In the finals, matching the winners of series A and B, the winners will receive $1,750 apiece, the losers $750 each.

The purse split and the dates and sites of the playoffs were set Monday by a meeting of NHL directors.

In the playoffs, each best of seven-game series, the first place team meets the No. 3 team in series A, the No. 2 against No. 4 in series B.

Of the basis of present standings—with Montreal, New York, Detroit and Boston leading the NHL in that order—Detroit would open the series A playoffs with games March 25, 27 at Montreal. The series B playoffs would send Boston to New York for the same two dates.

Pierson New Football Coach at Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Tom Pierson is the new head football coach at Mansfield High School.

His selection followed Robert McNea was announced by Dr. Robert E. Wilson, superintendent of schools.

Pierson has been assistant football coach at the school and head baseball coach for seven years. He was chosen to head the football program from among 70 applicants for McNea's post. His salary will be $7,000 a year.

McNea resigned two months ago to join the football coaching staff at Northwestern University.

Demonstration Group To Convene Wednesday

LEETONIA — Salem - Perry Township Home Demonstration Group will meet at the home of Mrs. Ivan Harrold, Franklin Square-Lisbon Rd. from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The project will be care and repair of electrical appliances. The leaders will be Mrs. Ivan Harrold and Audry Harrold.

The meeting is open to all women of Salem and Perry Townships.

Ohio Group Urging Farm Trade Build Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio farm group hopes to talk Congress into spending more money to build up farm trade with foreign nations.

D. R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, said his organization is urging Congress to extend Public Law 490 for two years and to spend 1 1/2 billion dollars on it the first year and 750 million dollars the second year.

Stanfield said the law makes it possible for farmers to sell farm products overseas in return for foreign currency and to use part of the money for developing and expanding new farm markets.

A 50-member Farm Bureau delegation is in Washington for talks with Ohio congressman and Secretary of Agriculture Benson. The Ohioans plan to say what they want in the way of farm legislation.

Stanfield said today his group also is supporting a five-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act and extension of the National Wool Act.

Monday, H. D. Heckathorn, president of the Farm Bureau, announced the Bureau's opposition to a proposed increase in corn acreage allotments and the minimum support price of 75 per cent of parity.

In asking an end to corn acreage allotments, Heckathorn said: "Price supports for corn should be set at 90 per cent of the average farm price for the previous three-year period. Price supports for other feed grains should be comparable to corn support prices in order to maintain more constant incomes to farmers in every feed grain."

en of Salem and Perry Townships. Those planning to attend should bring old scissors, small screwdrivers, paring knife, short length of electric cord and a sack lunch.

The Sunday School Association of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will meet in the church parlor at 8 Wednesday evening.

The Official Board of the Methodist Church will meet in the social room at 7 followed by Mid-Week Lenten service at 8.

Mrs. Zella Dempsey of Canton visited her sister, Mrs. Tillie McNulty, Sunday.

The Leetonia Board of Education members approved a request from the Leetonia Mennonite Church to use the high school from June 9 to 20 for summer Bible school.

AT A RECENT MEETING of the Board of Education, Superintendent Paul Hayes reported on the Business Education Cooperative Training program to be presented to senior girls during the coming year.

This program is designed to provide cooperative training on a half-day basis for senior girls. The other half day is divided between academic subjects and subjects related to work being done on-the-job.

To date, 16 girls have expressed a desire to participate in such a program. The purpose of BECT for school youth is to enable the student to secure initial employment in the field of business and at the same time develop acceptable attitudes in order that she may become an asset to her school job and community.

The Mary Greenamyer Society of the Leetonia Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Eva S. G. Ashley Wednesday afternoon.

The Ruth Bible Class of the Methodist Church will meet in the social room following Lenten Service Thursday evening with Mrs. Verda Walters and Mrs. Matilda Champlin as hostesses. Mrs. Helen Archer will have devotions.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Roy Blasola has been named manager of Chrysler Corp.'s stamping plant at nearby Twinsburg. He succeeds W. T. Hanlon, named manager of a Chrysler plant in Detroit.

BODY IDENTIFIED—The Army has identified the body found in Tokyo Bay as that of Master Sergeant Emmett E. Dugan, 39, Army intelligence agent from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Engineer Says Lung Cancer, Fumes Related

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio engineer testified today that scientists have found a direct relationship between automobile exhaust fumes and lung cancer.

Ross V. Doughty, combustion engineer for the city of Dayton, made the statement in backing a bill by Rep. Schenck (R-Ohio) to penalize drivers of cars with excessive exhaust fumes.

Doughty told a House commerce subcommittee on traffic safety that Drs. Clarence A. Mills and Majorie Mills had made a study of the effect of exhaust fumes.

They found, he said, that: "Heightened lung cancer rates in every (tobacco) smoking category are further sharply increased for suburban Cincinnati men traveling 12,000 miles or more a year in heavy traffic is exposed to exhaust fumes that multiply his risk of lung cancer by as much as two or three."

Robert Zipf, Montgomery County, Ohio, coroner, also backed Schenck's bill.

The 'Sack Look'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Can 50 million American men be wrong?

Will their wives, sisters, mothers and daughters really go for that new so-called "sack look" in their clothing?

The answer is yes, the men are wrong; and, yes, the American woman seems already sold on the chemise silhouette in everything from nightgowns to evening dresses. As far as milady herself is concerned, she's in the bag.

It will do no good for the average husband to announce sternly he will refuse to escort in public a wife dressed to resemble an ambulant sugar sack or a strolling bean bag. For no matter whose wife he goes out with, that's how she is going to look.

At the risk of being denounced as a traitor by millions of American men still unconvinced to the new feminine styles, I'd like to cast a solid vote in favor of them. And for several reasons.

For one thing, they make it easier to tell men and women apart, something that has been getting more and more difficult in this civilization.

How can you identify them at a glance? If it wears an Ivy League—or skinned rabbit—look, it is a man. If it billows like a sailboat in a strong breeze as it passes, it is a woman.

Going for a walk with a girl clad in one of these not-quite-blown-up balloon dresses has a new air of risk and requires a certain daring challenging to a real man. He never knows when a sudden gust of wind may swirl her drapery around him and smother him before bystanders can rush to his aid.

Another thing I find entrancing in the new style is the sense of mystery it gives a woman. You can never tell what will be her next move—as she has to take four steps before the dress begins going, too. It also lends some of the entrancing appeal of a circus tent: You wonder what could be beneath all that flapping canvas.

Perhaps, however, the soundest reason of all for endorsing the folks applaud it women will quickly "sack look" is that if their men-folks applaud it women will quickly tire of it, figuring there must be something basically wrong with any fashion that men approve.

But if men keep attacking the style, the girls will simply be inspired to go on to something worse. And anyone who thinks there can't be anything worse than the "sack look" is just plain unversed in the history of past horrors committed by women in the name of fashion.

The flapper wore a cloth hat that fitted as closely as a Greek helmet. She wore a shapeless short gunnysack dress and ornamented it—so help me—with tassels and beads. She rolled her socks below her knees.

Nope, fellows, it's better to go quietly along with the "sack look" until women repent of their own accord and go on to other and nobler forms of madness.

DIVIDE PLOUFF MONEY
CINCINNATI (AP)—Members of the Cincinnati Royals pro basketball team Monday voted full $375 shares of playoff money to Coach Bobby Wanzer and 10 players now on its roster, and half shares to Dick Duckett who played 34 games this season and to trainer Bob Harper.

Detroit eliminated Cincinnati from the National Basketball Assn. playoffs Sunday.

Pythian Sisters Lodge Installs New Officers

COLUMBIANA — Pythian Sisters Lodge installed new officers at its last meeting. The staff, headed by Nancy Haas, most excellent chief, includes:

Iona Wisler, past chief; Dorothy Haas, excellent senior; Lena Fuhrman, excellent junior; Mabel Mathers, manager; Mayme Chesnut, pianist; Mary Cannon, secretary; Elsie Swindell, treasurer; Betty Hess, outside guard; Edna Hively, protector; Leota Spreatt, mistress of works; Helen Fuhrman, installing officer; Dorothy Haas, correspondent and grand lodge representative.

New trustees are Mabel Mathers and Lena Fuhrman.

U.S. Production Slumps to Lowest Point Since 1954

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial production slumped in February to the lowest level since December 1954. The Federal Reserve Board reported today its index dropped three points to 130 per cent of the 1947-9 average.

This took the index 11 per cent below the high level of a year ago.

Production of autos, household appliances, machinery and other durables in February was 16 per cent below the year-ago rate, the board said.

The board's monthly summary of business condition summed up the state of the economy in these words:

"Recession in economic activity continued in February.

"Industrial production, employment, incomes, and retail sales again declined, and unemployment rose to a new post-war high. Construction activity was curtailed slightly.

"In February and early March, prices of farm products and foods continued to rise, while prices of industrial commodities changed little."

The report said bad weather contributed to the over-all reduction in industrial activity but led to a rise in production by the electric and gas utility industries.

Former Ohio Senator Succumbs in Florida

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Roscoe C. McCullough, 77, former U.S. Senator from Ohio and three term 16th Dist. representative from that state, died in a nursing home Monday after a long illness.

McCullough was appointed to the Senate to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Sen. Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland in 1929.

He is survived by his widow Helen; a daughter, Katharine, and a son, Hugh, of Columbus.

LISBON KIWANIS CLUB

LISBON — Frank A. Dawson, owner of Dawson's Funeral Home at East Liverpool, will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at the Pythian Temple.

Dawson is president of the Ohio District of Funeral Directors Association.

thers, manager; Mayme Chesnut, pianist; Mary Cannon, secretary; Elsie Swindell, treasurer; Betty Hess, outside guard; Edna Hively, protector; Leota Spreatt, mistress of works; Helen Fuhrman, installing officer; Dorothy Haas, correspondent and grand lodge representative.

New trustees are Mabel Mathers and Lena Fuhrman.

MRS. CLAUDIA CUNNINGHAM, local deputy registrar, reports a total of 875 auto license tags were sold through Monday morning. She said another month-end rush appears in the making, since the total sold to date is just over one-third of the approximate 2,200 sold last year.

Semi-annual visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be made to Columbiana Apr. 4. The unit will be stationed at Grace Reformed Church from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Ladies Auxiliary to Eagles Lodge 2415 will meet at 8 tonight for nomination of officers. Hostesses will be Pearl Farmer and Alice J. Jones.

CONTRIBUTIONS in the Columbiana Heart Fund campaign have passed the $960 mark and are expected to eventually reach the $1,000 goal, according to Miss Camille Esenwein, chairman for the sponsoring Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

Some delayed contributions, and others sent directly to the Youngstown Area Heart Association but credited to the Columbiana campaign, are expected to push the final total to the $1,000 mark.

Youth Sunday has been announced for April 13 in Jerusalem Lutheran Church, when the youth of the church will be in charge of Sunday School and church services.

A dinner and program is planned for the evening, with the youth of the church and their parents as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Yarian of S. Main St. are visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lindner of Cincinnati.

Easter Sunrise Services will be conducted at 6:30 a.m. April 6 at the Jerusalem Lutheran Church, with the Luther League in charge.

CHEVY'S NEW V8 LEVELS THE HIGHEST, HARDEST HIGHWAY OVER THE ANDES!

To prove the durability of Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8,* the tremendous flexibility of the new Turboglide transmission,* the incredible smoothness of Full Coil suspension, we tackled the most challenging transcontinental road in the world — the 1,000-mile General San Martin Highway. To make it harder, the Automobile Club of Argentina sealed the hood shut at Buenos Aires — no chance to add oil or water or adjust carburetors for high altitude.

So the run began — across the blazing Argentine pampas, into the ramparts of the forbidding Andes. Up and up the road climbed, almost 2 1/2 miles in the sky! Drivers gasped for oxygen at 12,572 feet — but the Turbo-Thrust V8 never slackened its torrent of power, the Full Coil springs smothered every bump, the Turboglide transmission made play of grades up to 30 percent. Then a plunge to the Pacific at Valparaiso, Chile, a quick turn-around and back again. Time for the round trip: 41 hours 14 minutes — and the engine was never turned off!
